

Alaska Radio Control Society Membership

The Alaska Radio Control Society (ARCS) was founded in 1957. The club main flying site, Groeschel Field, has a mowed grass runway at Point MacKenzie for summer flying (the BIGGEST RC field in Alaska). Camping is allowed and encouraged. Groeschel Field will be a FRIA field (FAA-recognized identification area). At FRIA fields, AMA members are not restricted to 400-foot altitude limits and are not required to have remote id capabilities as required by the new FAA regulations (which go into effect in fall 2022). In addition, ARCS has a sanctioned field at Storck Park in Anchorage for park flyers and electricians.

The club holds meetings on the first Tuesday of each month at 7:30 PM (see the website www.alaskarc.org for more information on meeting locations). Anyone with an interest in R/C is welcome at the meetings. We look forward to meeting you!
